

Maxville Manor (MM) Outbreak Communication

January 2, 2021

I wanted to provide an update on the outbreak situation at Maxville Manor. The staff member that originally tested positive was retested with the rapid test and the regular PCR lab test and in both cases, tested negative. However, this does not change our outbreak status at the Manor. We are still considered in outbreak.

We will be testing all staff and essential caregivers on January 5 and we will be testing all residents on January 6. Our situation will be reassessed by Public Health after all the results come back for this round of testing. For staff, I encourage you to remain vigilant at home with self-isolation practices until the outbreak is deemed over. For your loved ones and for essential caregivers, they are only required self-monitor for symptoms.

As an FYI, the MM Outbreak Management Team is meeting daily to keep apprised of the evolving situation.

Enjoy the New Year! Please let me know if you have any questions/concerns at aporteous@maxvillemanor.ca.

Amy Porteous
CEO, Maxville Manor